1. DISTRICT PROFILE:-

1.1 District at a Glance:

The district is located in the North eastern Rajasthan between 27⁰24' N to 29⁰00' N latitude and 73⁰44' E to 75⁰45' longitudes. It is bounded by Hanumangarh District in the north, by Sikar and Jhunjhunu Districts of Rajasthan and Hissar District of Hariyana in the east, by Nagour district in the south and in the west by Bikaner district of Rajasthan.

1.2 General:

Churu is a District in the desert region of Rajasthan state of India. It is known as gateway to the Thar Desert of Rajasthan. It is the administrative headquarters of Churu District. It lies in the Thar Desert on the National Highway-65 connecting Pali to Ambala. It is near the shifting sand dunes of the Thar Desert and has grand havelis with marvelous fresco paintings, namely Kanhaiya Lal Bagla ki Haweli and Surana Haweli, with hundreds of small windows. It also has some fine Chhatris. Near the town is a religious seat of the Nath sect of Sadhus where there are life-size Marble statue of their deities and a place for prayers. There stands a Dharam Stup, a symbol of religious equality. At the centre of the town is a fort built about 400 years ago.

Founded in A.D. 1620 by Jat ruler Churu and the place was named Churu after his name in the Jangladesh region of the state. It was subsequently ruled by Rathore Rajputs and during war of 1871 the area came under dominance of Bikaner. Churu, like an oasis, situated in the middle of the shifting golden sand dunes, opens the gate to the great desert of Thar. Before India's independence in 1947, it was a part of Bikaner State. The district came into existence in 1948.

1.3 Administrative Setup:

The CHURU district is presently composed of Seven Sub-divisions vis, Churu, Ratangarh, Rajgarh, Sujangarh, Sardarshahar, Taranagar, Bidasar with a view to have better control and smooth working the sub-divisions have been divided in to Seven Tehsil and Seven Panchayat Sammities. There are also 10 town, 862 number of inhabited and 55 uninhabited villages in the district. The detail of the administrative set up of the district is shown in the following table.
